

Catherine's children.

CATHERINE ROUSH, MD

“I’m very happy to be associated with The Woman’s Group and look forward to sharing my knowledge with my patients.”

- Catherine Roush, Physician

Catherine Roush attended Loyola University for undergraduate work and The School of Medicine in New Orleans at Louisiana State University Medical Center for medical school. She completed her residency at St. Joseph Hospital in Houston Texas in 2001. Catherine has developed expertise in minimally invasive laproscopic surgery as well as infertility treatment. She is well versed in the use of ovulation induction techniques as well as laproscopic-assisted hysterectomy. Catherine is described by patients as friendly and knowledgeable. She spends her extra time enjoying her three young children and her husband in the great outdoors - hiking, camping and sailing.
