

Pranita with her husband and daughter.

PRANITA NIRGUDKAR, MD

“Due to its diverse services, The Woman’s Group allows me the opportunity to offer the best healthcare to my patients.”

- Pranita Nirgudkar, Physician

Pranita Nirgudkar was born in Mumbai, India. She attended B.J. Medical College in Pune, India. Following her graduation in 2001, she relocated to the United States. In 2007, she completed her residency at Bayfront Medical Center, St. Petersburg, FL and was recognized for achievement in Laparoendoscopic Surgery. In addition, she received the

M.A. Barton Award for Best Clinical Research Presentation for her studies on pregnancy rates in In Vitro Fertilization patients.

Pranita enjoys spending time with her husband and her young daughter. She also has a great appreciation for the arts and enjoys painting and drawing. Pranita is fluent in Hindi and Marathi.

THE WOMAN'S GROUP

PRANITA NIRGUDKAR: (HONORS) Laparoendoscopic Surgeons Achievement Award, Bayfront Medical Center 2007; M.A. Barton Award for Best Clinical Research Presentation, “Does Luteinizing Hormone affect pregnancy rates in In Vitro Fertilization” 2006; 1st Prize B.J. Medical College Physiology Project “Difference in Reaction Time to Visual and Auditory Stimuli” 1996. (COMMUNITY SERVICE) Pulse Polio immunization drive January 2001; Hepatitis-B Immunization camp for Rotary Club of Pune, India September 2000. (PUBLICATIONS) Co-Author of “Primary Retroperitoneal Immature Teratoma during Pregnancy,” Journal of Pelvic Medicine & Surgery, May/June 2006 edition. (SOCIETIES) American College of Obstetrics and Gynecology.

www.thewomansgrouptampa.com