D.A. KOBLISKA, CNM, ARNP

“I am honored and privileged to work with a dedicated and diverse group of women for whom excellence of care is their highest priority.”

- D. A. Kobliska, CNM, ARNP

D.A. Kobliska was born in Iowa. She received her BS in nursing from The University of Iowa College of Nursing in 1971. She completed her MBA at Long Island University in 1975 and her M.S. in Nursing at The University of Utah in 1985. Her professional career led her to military service, caring for the gynecological and obstetrical needs of military personnel and their families. D. served first as an Army Nurse stationed in West Germany and West Point and then as an Airforce Nurse serving in Eglin AFB, Fort Walton Beach, and finally at MacDill AFB, Tampa, where she was appointed acting CNM consultant to the Air Combat Surgeon General. In 1993, after 23 years of active military service, D. retired with the rank of Lieutenant Colonel and joined the ranks of private practice and then The Woman's Group in 2008. D. is a certified childbirth educator and passionately shares her professional, high quality midwifery with her patients. She enjoys food, family, friends and is proud of her daughter, Andrea, who is a lawyer, and of her son, Dan, who serves his country as an Air Force Pilot.
